

gothic studies

This international journal considers the field of Gothic studies from the eighteenth century to the present day. The aim of Gothic Studies is not merely to open a forum for dialogue and cultural criticism, but to provide a specialist journal for scholars working in a field which is today taught or researched in almost all academic establishments.

Gothic Studies invites contributions from scholars working within any period of the Gothic; interdisciplinary scholarship is especially welcome, as are readings in the media and beyond the written word.

Gothic Studies is available to institutions in print & online and online only subscriptions.

Members of the International Gothic Association receive a discount on individual print subscriptions.

Editor: William Hughes email: w.hughes@bathspa.ac.uk

Assistant Editor: Emily Alder email: em.alder@napier.ac.uk

ISSN: 1362-7937 (Print)
ISSN: 2050-456X (Online)
Biannual (May and November)

2013 SUBSCRIPTION RATES:

Institutions
Online only £125 / $223 / €163
Print and online £138 / $256 / €180

Individuals
Print only £43 / $80 / €55

IGA Members
Print only £38 / $72 / €49

To subscribe, contact:

Turpin Distribution

Pegasus Drive, Stratton Business Park, Biggleswade,
Bedfordshire, SG18 8TQ, UK

Tel: +44 (0) 176 7604917 Fax: +44 (0)1767 604948

Email: Manchester@turpin-distribution.com

MANCHESTER
1824

Manchester University Press

Gothic Studies

Volume 15, Issue 1, June 2013

*Open Graves, Open Minds:
Vampires and the Undead in Modern Culture:*

Guest Editors: Sam George and Bill Hughes

Sam George and Bill Hughes

Introduction: undead reflections – the sympathetic vampire and its monstrous other

Victoria Amador

Dark ladies: vampires, lesbians, and women of colour

Charlotte Bosseaux

'Bloody hell. Sodding, blimey, shagging, knickers, bollocks. Oh God, I'm English':
Translating Spike

Kimberly Frohreich

Sullied blood, semen, and skin: vampires and the spectre of miscegenation

David McWilliam

Perfect Enemies: Neoconservative Hunters and Terrorist Vampires in Joe Ahearne's
Ultraviolet (1998)

Xavier Aldana Reyes

'Who ordered the hamburger with AIDS?': haematophilic semiotics in Tru(e) Blood

Antonio Sanna

The postmodern evolution of telepathy from Dracula to the Twilight Saga

Angela Tenga and Elizabeth Zimmerman

Vampire gentlemen and zombie beasts: a rendering of true monstrosity

Rebecca Williams

Unlocking The Vampire Diaries: genre, authorship, and quality in teen TV horror

I would like to subscribe. Please send me an invoice

Name: _____

Address: _____

Turpin Distribution
Pegasus Drive, Stratton Business Park
Biggleswade, Bedfordshire, SG18 8TQ, UK
Tel +44 (0) 176 7604917 Fax +44 (0) 1767 604948
Email: Manchester@turpin-distribution.com

Library Journal Request Form

If you would like your institution to subscribe to:

Gothic Studies

please fill in this form and give it to your institution's Head Librarian.

Dear Librarian,

I have reviewed this journal published by Manchester University Press and urge you to add it to your subscription list. Manchester University Press are happy to provide you with a free sample copy for inspection and/or free online access for trial period.

Course: _____

Name: _____

Department: _____

Phone: _____ Email: _____

Date: _____

Manchester University Press, Oxford Road, Manchester M13 9NR +44 (0) 161 275 2310

www.manchesteruniversitypress.co.uk