

Nosferatu at 100:

The Vampire as Contagion and Monstrous Outsider

Online Event: Saturday 12 March 2022
10.00-14.35

2022 marks the 100th anniversary of the release of F. W. Murnau's classic vampire film, Nosferatu: A Symphony of Horror. The Open Graves, Open Minds Project are hosting an online event to celebrate the 100th anniversary of this film, which premiered in March 1922. Join us for talks by leading scholars of vampire and Gothic film, Prof. Stacey Abbott, Dr Xavier Aldana Reyes, Dr Sam George, and the novelist Marcus Sedgwick, with concluding remarks by Prof. Ken Gelder and Dr Bill Hughes. There will be opportunities for all attendees to ask questions of the panel and join in discussion. There will also be a vampiric flash fiction writing competition for those who are feeling creative. Attendees will receive a Nosferatu Centenary Souvenir PDF Programme and Poster a few days prior to the event.

Open Graves,
Open Minds

www.opengravesopenminds.com

ogomproject@gmail.com

Twitter: @OGOMProject

#OGOMNosferatu100

Tickets are available from Eventbrite via

<https://www.eventbrite.co.uk/e/nosferatu-at-100-the-vampire-as-contagion-and-monstrous-outsider-tickets-268089311347>

£8.00 Full rate £5.00 Concessionary (for students and unwaged)